WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"The Spoilers."

Mr. Henry McRae: That it is not necessary for everybody who enjoys a western play to be a westerner, has been proved by the charm of the new play, "The Spoilers," in which Miss Margaret Oswald will appear at the opera house next Thursday evening, is proving for the great masses of people of all ages and conditions.
The young man likes it because it gives him a glimpse into the life of which he knows nothing, but of which he is longing to have just such a peep. The old people enjoy it because it reminds them with the pulse beat of the great life outside their own. The young lady enjoys it because it is heroic and pictures in all its glory the western spirit of rough and ready men of the West. The company and scenic equipment of "The Spoilers," is said to be far above the average productions.
In spite of strong counter-attractions the McRae people played to a good house last night. "The Man of the Hour" is proving to be the hit it deserves to be and holds the attention of openhouse goers from curtain to curtain. Louis Morrison has the star character of the "House" and in it realizes all that his admirers hoped. Charley Royal and James Dillon shared in much of the applause last night.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

An interesting meeting of the Council of the City will be held this evening at Governor Frier's residence.

Autos 408 and 431 sped down Fort street yesterday afternoon at a reckless rate, the drivers being disrespectful of the rights of pedestrians, especially at street intersections.

J. S. Low leaves the management of Hind, Rupp & Co.'s Honolulu business today to take up a position as accountant for the Hawaiian Irrigation Company at Kaimukoo, May 15. J. K. O'Hara has been appointed his successor.

Territorial Treasurer Cookling, William Williamson and Doctor H. H. hold a joint birthday celebration yesterday, each having appeared in this world on the same day of the same month. Their combined ages totals something over a hundred.

The band will play this afternoon at Noon for the May festival. Sunday afternoon the band will play for the opening of the baseball season at Athletic Park, and on Monday morning at Arlington Park for the Marines. Monday evening there will be a concert, as usual, at Union Square.

There will be a meeting of the Governor with the board of agriculture and forestry at the board rooms this morning to discuss the creation of a forest reserve above the Pipanua homestead on this island. The proposed reserve takes in between seven and eight hundred acres of government lands. No opposition to the creation of the reserve is looked for. The meeting begins at ten o'clock.

PERSONALS.

Senator R. H. Makioka of Hawaii is expected here this morning on the Maunakea.

Among the returning passengers on the Maunakea this morning will be Dr. Walter Hoffmann, who went to Hawaii with W. R. Castle to look over the Kona House.

It was only through the influence of friends that the Honolulu music lovers were given the treat last evening of hearing Madame Carreno play the piano. Madame Carreno had been quite ill during the whole journey, but when Sidney Holten explained to her the situation she graciously consented to sacrifice personal comfort.

Mrs. Walter Hoffmann, who sang some years ago with Tagliapietra, a brother of Madame Carreno's present husband, was at the wharf with her automobile to meet the pianist and her two daughters, who accompany her. Mrs. Hoffmann took her guests for a drive over the city, and afterwards gave a little informal dinner party in her honor.

WANTS NEWS OF "GOOD OLD HONOLULU"

In sending in a subscription for The Advertiser, W. O. Miller, superintendent of the western division of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, writes: "I spent two months in Honolulu with my family the fore part of this year. We have all a very tender spot in our hearts for good old Honolulu and your pleasant and courteous people, and therefore wish to have some news about your city."

DAYTON WILL PROBATE

A petition for the probating of the will of the late David M. Dayton was filed in the circuit court yesterday by the widow, Lucretia M. Dayton. According to the petition the estate left by the deceased kamaaina includes the family homestead on Liliha street, valued at $10,000, and property on School street and at Diamond Head, value to be ascertained. The heirs at law besides the widow are the three children, Ella K., David and Iwalei K. Dayton.

"Rory," said the minister, "I hear ye were at Dunlop's kick on Sunday last. Not that I object, ye ken, but ye widna versel like yer ain sheep strayin' away into strange pastures." "I widna care, sir," said Rory, "if it was better grass."—Boston Transcript.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM A HOUSEHOLD LINIMENT.

A touch of rheumatism, or a twinge of neuralgia, whatever the trouble is, Chamberlain's Pain Balm drives away the pain at once and cures the complaint quickly. First application gives relief. When a bottle of it is kept in the house the pains of burns and scalds may be promptly relieved, cuts and bruises quickly healed and swelling promptly reduced. In fact, for the household it is just such a liniment as every family should be provided with. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

The German competitor in the race for the South Pole is First Lieutenant Ebelner, who is attached to the General Staff of the German army. Lieutenant Ebelner has already distinguished himself in exploration by his travels in Central Asia. He spent the years from 1905 to 1907 in Tibet and has also traveled much in Persia and Turkestan. In planning his approach to the pole Ebelner proposes to make his base on the coast of Weddell Sea and to approach the pole from the opposite side to that of Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition.

Madame Carreno leaves the scene in doubt whether to pursue her with the tourists in a motor express and school, and she checks this idea. In consequence of her disordered health, she has not been able to play for some time. Her last night's performance in the new theatre, which was her greatest triumph, was a success. She was the greatest success of the season and her performance was a success. She was the greatest success of the season and her performance was a success.

Two selections from Salome and two from Macbeth, probably America's greatest composer, formed her third offering and in closing she rendered Schubert's "Serenade" of Leo's "Suite de Vienne" and the last of the "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 6," in which she did by far her greatest work of the evening.

Warm Day Suggestions

It is never too hot for a coat to be worn in Honolulu and there was never a better opportunity to get one that will fit and look well. Our window contains a suggestion for coats for this season.

The Trousers, Negligee Shirts and Hats are in harmony with the Coats. They're for outing stunts. Good on the tennis courts and not half bad for the links. We feel that our stock of these goods for men is unequalled in this part of the country.

We have your size in everything you wear except shoes.
